CHARGE OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, AT WINCHESTER.

The services rendered by our cavalry in the war for the suppression of the rebellion have been generally acknowledged; yet many thrilling incidents have been suffered to go unrecorded, because unwitnessed by reporters for the public journals, and are treasured up only in the memory of those who participated actively, and who, seldom quitting the saddle even for a day, had little leisure to perform the duties of chronicler of events.

"Cavalry," said Gen. Morgan, of revolutionary notoriety, "are the eyes of the infantry." But, in the late war, a cavalry corps constituted something more than a corps of observation. Frequently the only purpose served by the horses was that of rapid transportation from one point to another. The surface of the country did not often permit a mounted engagement, and the command most familiar to a cavalryman's ears, on going into action, was, "Prepare to fight on foot." In this manner, although carrying weapons of shorter range, and frequently without support, our cavalry often were pitted against infantry, and not unfrequently were employed to carry intrenched positions. Always in advance, or on the flanks of the infantry, often absent for a week from a base, with no supplies save those gathered from the enemy's country, the life of a cavalryman was a succession of perilous and exciting adventures.

The operations of Sheridan's cavalry, during the last year of the war, were confined almost entirely to one State. During that period, every section of Virginia was visited with fire and sword; her fairest fields were drenched with the blood of heroes—horse and horseman had slaked their thirst in every considerable stream in the State.

The incident about to be described occurred in the Valley of the Shenandoah, which, before the rebellion, was the "Eden of America," but at the war's termination, was a desolate waste, with scarcely a barn, storehouse, mill or fence, to relieve the monotony of the scene.

Harper's Ferry and Staunton—its northern and southern termini—are connected by a magnificent pike, over which large armies with immense trains of artillery and army wagons passed, in alternate advance and rapid flight, during four years of war, but could not ruin.

Along this road, through the small towns, strode Lee and Jackson in front of their legions, with head uncovered, while the rustic population—decrepit old men, women and children—flocked to gaze upon the sturdy chieftains with an admiration amounting almost to adoration.

Over this same thoroughfare the discomfited Confederates hurried back from Antietam and from Gettysburg, while every house along the route was converted into a hospital for the wounded.

By the side of this road, under the hospitable shade of a tree, or close by the stone wall on either side, sleeps many a brave soldier, never more to waken at war's alarms—the untitled heroes of the conflict which decided the national fate.

Never before, during all the war for the Union, was cavalry employed more effectively, nor on so grand a scale, as at the battle of Winchester, which occurred on the 19th of September, 1864. Let us briefly recall some of the incidents of that terrible engagement, which resulted in a disastrous defeat to Early, but left four thousand of our dead and wounded on the field.

Long before daybreak the reveille had sounded in the Union camps in the vicinity of Summit Point, and, after a meal hastily dispatched, Sheridan's entire army was put in motion—Winchester being the objective point. At daybreak, Sheridan having crossed the Opequan river, engaged Early with three corps of infantry (Sixth, Eighth and Nineteenth.) Wilson was sent to operate with his division of cavalry, on the left bank, while Averill's guns could be heard, indicating his approach from the north. The first cavalry division was held in reserve, and drawn up in columns of brigades, on the hights to the eastward of, and overlooking Bunker Hill, the men being ordered to dismount and "stand to horse." During this interval of temporary inactivity, a word concerning the commander, and the composition of the division, may not be inappropriate. Gen. Merritt, at the commencement of the war, held, I believe, the rank of captain in one of the regiments of United States cavalry. Shortly afterward, upon recommendation of Major-General Pleasanton, he was commissioned Brigadier-General of volunteers, and before the close of the war was advanced to the grade of Major-General of volunteers. During the many hotly contested cavalry engagements, from Upperville and Aldie to Five Forks, he was not accustomed to view the progress of the battle from a distance, but plunged into the melee, encouraging his men by actual presence, and would not hesitate to place himself at the head of a single squadron for a charge, even when commanding a division. By his coolness and intrepidity in action, he won for himself an enviable reputation, and enjoyed in a high degree the confidence of General Sheridan.

Of the three brigades composing the first cavalry division, the first was composed entirely of Michigan troops, armed with the Spencer carbine, and commanded, at that time, by the gallant Custar, late Major-General of volunteers. The records of the provost-marshal's office tell what service has been performed by those hardy sons of the West, under that dashing officer. The Indiana brigade was made up of the First New York dragoons, the Fourth, Sixth, Ninth New York, and Seventeenth Pennsylvania cavalry. Its commander, Colonel Devin, had been brevetted Brigadier-General of volunteers, a few days before, for gallantry at Front Royal. This brigade bore its share of hard fighting, and has an honorable record. Among the officers brevetted General, for distinguished services, should be mentioned Colonel Alfred Gibbs, and Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas J. Thorp, of the First New York dragoons, and Colonel Charles Fitzhugh of the Sixth New York cavalry. The third brigade was composed chiefly of United States cavalry—men trained to the use of the saber from youth. It is a notable fact that the regular regiments of this brigade furnished a large proportion of the general's of note in both the Union and Confederate armies. It had at the time under notice, as a re-inforcement, detachments of the First Rhode Island, Second Massachusetts and Sixth Pennsylvania cavalry; and was commanded by Colonel Lowell, of the Second Massachusetts, who fell a month later in the memorable battle of Cedar Creek.

During the long hours of morning the dismounted troopers reclined on the ground in front of their horses, gayly chatting and smoking, or cooking coffee, giving little heed to the ever-increasing roar of artillery and rattle of musketry, which, though it could not intimidate, too plainly indicated the desperate nature of the conflict. The sun had reached the meridian, and still the din of battle did not recede. At three P. M., the situation was not materially improved. Though our infantry fought with the utmost heroism, every inch of ground was so stubbornly contested by the enemy that even our wounded could not be removed. A Southern journal, commenting on the battle at this stage, observed:

"Our army had, up to this time, successfully resisted the onset of the Federal infantry, besides inflicting severe punishment; and would, without doubt, have been successful, had it not been for the cavalry—the flower of the Yankee army."

At this critical moment, Merritt was ordered to charge with his whole division. "To horse!" was sounded, and the Opequan was quickly left behind. As soon as the open country was gained, the command was rapidly deployed in line of battle. Fortunately, the conformation of the country was favorable to cavalry movements, for with the exception of a few ditches and dilapidated stone walls, which could easily be cleared at a leap, there were no longer any obstructions. Steadily the line moved forward in the direction of Bunker Hill, with pace rapidly increased from a walk to a trot, from a trot to a gallop, while the formation was as carefully preserved as though the men were passing in review. The long line of horsemen, stretching across the plain from north to south, as far as the eye could reach, presented a magnificent spectacle, which, of itself, contributed wonderfully to inspire the individual with that confidence which numbers always beget. In front of the line rode the division and brigade commanders, while battle-flags and guidons were gayly floating in the breeze, and bugles continually sounding the "advance."

Directly, above the clatter of hoofs, and the jingling of scabbards, rung out the General's command, caught up and repeated by regimental and squadron commanders—"D-r-a-w sa-ber!" It is difficult to conceive of the electrifying effect which this command, and its simultaneous execution, has upon the mind of the individual. Man and horse are suddenly wrought up to the highest pitch of excitement, while every instinct of self-preservation is absorbed and lost sight of in the feeling of exhilaration induced by riding at a pace continually accelerated, until it reaches its climax in the charge. A quarter of a mile in advance, Rosser, Lomax, Imboden, McCausland and Vaughan were hurriedly forming for a counter-charge.

As they made their appearance midway on the field, haughtily flaunting their colors, I heard an officer of ours remark to his men, "We shall soon witness the annihilation of the rebel cavalry;" but, this was not to be; for, after the first shock of battle, they disappeared from our sight as does the morning mist before the rising sun, nor halted until night and darkness had overtaken them many miles from Winchester.

As soon as the advancing column came within range, Early turned upon it his available artillery, and shot and shell were rained almost continuously from redoubts on Bunker Hill, emptying many a saddle of its rider; but all the efforts of the Confederate commander to check the onset or break up the formation of the Federal cavalry were powerless. His own cavalry had ingloriously fled, and his artillery also was compelled to limber up and hastily decamp, to avoid capture, though not without the loss of several pieces, which were pounced upon by men of the regular and the Michigan brigades.

Now, the entire division was hurled with irresistible force upon the left flank of the enemy. Then ensued a scene which language can but feebly portray, and which may well be called the carnival of death.

Suddenly, upon the vision of the Confederate infantry, flashed four thousand sabers, while the solid ground was shaken by the tread of the approaching column. I marvel exceedingly that then and there no effort was made to resist the charge by forming the hollow square, with its wall of bayonets; nor do I remember that it was resorted to under similar circumstances, during the war, although every regiment in either army was drilled in the evolution. A panic seized upon the opposing host; they left off harassing our tired infantry, and, from a combative force, were quickly converted into a crowd of demoralized fugitives. The living mass surged backward, like waves driven before the wind.

To a foot-soldier the sight of hostile cavalry is always sufficiently appalling; and, unless sheltered by breastworks, or, if the artillery fails to demoralize the horses and destroy the formation, he does not wait to be trampled under foot, but uniformly seeks safety in flight. On the part of Merritt's men, there was a feeling of supreme exultation; as, rising in their stirrups, they rode straight at the doomed horde, dealing blows lustily about the head and ears of the devoted wretches.

Conspicuous in the charging body could be seen a tall officer (a returned prisoner of war), mounted on a handsome black charger, with the visor of his cap reversed, smarting under indignities endured while in captivity, wielding his saber remorselessly—the impersonation of a fiend. Under the excitement of the moment, the veriest coward was surprised into the performance of prodigious feats of valor. The gallant behavior of a soldier who hitherto had served in the humble capacity of cook, attracted observation. Encountering a Confederate colonel, punctilious about surrendering to a private soldier, he felled him to the earth by a well-directed blow, which pierced his skull. A color-sergeant shared a similar fate at his hands. Scores of the Confederates threw themselves on the ground, and in piteous tones, sued for their lives. Some stood as if transfixed with terror, still grasping their muskets; while others skulked behind a friendly bush or stone to avoid being crushed. Here a single cavalryman might be seen hurrying to the rear a squad of prisoners, their eyes dilated with terror, their lips covered with foam from utter exhaustion; there a trooper proudly winning a Southern battle-flag—a trophy of his own prowess. In their anxiety to secure prisoners, many of the men passed by these trophies, the capture of which is regarded as highly honorable. In this manner, the different regiments of the second brigade gathered up more by far than their own number.

A long score of wrong and injustice was on that day wiped out in blood; for, when the sun went down, not every saber, I ween, was sent home to its scabbard bloodless. Only a few men were missing from my own regiment at night, and the bodies of these were found and buried on the most hotly contested ground, by those who followed after, for that purpose. The rout of the enemy was signal and complete. As the whole Union army pushed on through Winchester, in hot pursuit, the stripes and stars were exposed from many a window, while ladies waved their handkerchiefs from balconies in real or feigned congratulation. Darkness alone interrupted the pursuit.

The ground over which the battle raged presented a sad spectacle of the horrors of war. Thousands of dead and wounded of either army were strewn about promiscuously, and a corps of surgeons and attendants laboring unremittingly for four days could not minister to all the sufferers before the wounds of some had become the habitation of loathsome worms. It is not my purpose, in confining this article to the first division, to detract from the dearly-earned laurels of the other cavalry divisions, nor to ignore the hard fighting of our infantry, which was well attested by a long list of casualties.

In conclusion, we may add, that Early never recovered from the bitter defeat sustained at Winchester. His army was beaten in every subsequent engagement, until the remnant of it was captured by Sheridan's cavalry at Waynesboro', the Southern General himself barely making his escape by a precipitate and solitary flight through one of the gaps of the Blue Ridge.

LETTER OF DAN'L WEBSTER TO D. S. DICKINSON

The Binghaminton Republican prints the following letter, heretofore unpublished:

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27, 1850.

MY DEAR SIR:—Our companionship in the Senate is dissolved. After this long and most important session you are about to return to your home, and I shall try to find leisure to visit mine. I hope we may meet each other again, two months hence, for the discharge of our duties in our respective stations in the Government. But life is uncertain, and I have not felt willing to take leave of you without placing in your hands a note containing a few words which I wish to say to you.

In the earlier part of our acquaintance my dear sir, occurrences took place which I remember with constantly increasing regret and pain, because, the more I know you, the greater has been my esteem for your character and my respect for your talents. But it is your noble, manly and patriotic conduct in support of the great measure of this session which has entirely won my heart and received my highest regard. I hope you may live long to serve your country; but I do not think you are ever likely to see a crisis in which you may be able to do so much good. You have stood where others have fallen; you have advanced with firm and manly steps where others have wavered, faltered and fallen back; and for one, I desire to thank you, and to commend your conduct, out of the fullness of an honest heart.

This letter needs no reply; it is, I am aware, of very little value; but I have thought you might be willing to receive it, and, perhaps, to leave it where it will be seen by those who will come after you.

I pray you, when you reach your own threshold, to remember me most kindly to your wife and daughter; and I remain, my dear sir, with the truest esteem.

Your friend and obedient servant,
DANIEL WEBSTER.

Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson.

BACKING DOWN.—The Radicals are crawfishing. Notwithstanding the committee's entire reconstruction scheme passed the House, the Marysville Appeal can't swallow the third section. With the exception of one from Kentucky and Maryland each, every Radical or Republican, call them what you will, voted for the third section with the rest. Still the Appeal can't gulp it down. Thus each day the seal of condemnation is being fixed upon the Rump Congress. Their own supporters are deserting them, like rats from a falling building. The people are rallying to the support of the President. With the fall of these destructives rises the great Democracy, and then will be inaugurated a new and more glorious era in the history of our country.—Examiner.

The Examiner ought not to misrepresent the Appeal. This paper has been and is to-day as radical "as any other man." We risk nothing in declaring that we support heartily whatever conditions Congress may agree to offer the erring sisters. Before conditions are settled we claim the right to express our opinion in favor or against any section of any Constitutional amendment. Such expressions are no indicative of "backing down." The radicals will stand by Congress, even to another war if necessary. The loyal people of the loyal States will reconstruct the Union. Whatever Congress agrees upon as a finality the people will ratify at the polls. We have often expressed an opinion that the war ceased too early. Perhaps we are wrong. Time will decide.—Marysville Appeal.

GIVE THEM ROPE.—Ministers of religion for some years have been making capital by using familiar illustrations in the pulpit and spicing their political diatribes with sacred allusions, until they and their congregations have lost all sense of the difference between reverence and profanity. No wonder that the tone of many editors has been taken from such examples. Perhaps the editor of the Democratic Standard, who said that "when Democracy dies, God dies," out-Heroded every irreverent speech that had been perpetrated, and won the distinction of being the smartest blasphemer of his day. Neither Radicals, Republicans, nor Unionists ever claimed that the existence of the Divine Creator depended upon the success of a political principle, however good, just, or right they might conscientiously believe that principle to be. The greatest stumbling block the Democrats have to contend against in catching the stray votes of waverers is the folly, rashness and diabolical recklessness of speech and action of its party leaders on the stump and in the editorial sanctum. If the Democrats could shut the mouth of some half a dozen of their loudest tongued advocates, they might get a few new adherents. The best policy of the Union party is to encourage the Standard and La Crosse Democrat to take their fling.—Dramatic Standard.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.—A corresponden of the Tehama Observer, writing from Cottonwood, May 9th, has the following:

Yesterday a lady by the name of Murphey, residing on the Middle Fork of Cottonwood, Tehama county, killed a man by the name of Wilson by shooting him through the head with a pistol. Mrs. Murphey has a husband, and is the mother of seven children. She is the only daughter of John Raglan, and an estimable lady in every respect. Murphey was not at home at the time the killing occurred. The wretch Wilson, who was killed, was attempting to force the lady to submit to his beastly will. I presume she was obliged to resort to the extreme measure she did in order to prevent the beast from accomplishing his hellish purpose. Squire Ruff was sent for to hold an inquest upon the body, and to officially investigate the case. He went up to Murphey's to-day. From what little I have heard, I have not a doubt the lady was perfectly justifiable, and that the Squire will so decide.

ANTI-CHINESE EMEUTE.—Smartsville is a mining district where it does pay white men to labor; so on Monday last one hundred miners made a descent upon the Chinese, packed them with their traps, and marched them over the hill out of town. They then assembled in the town hall, and, after appointing a President and Secretary, proceeded to enter into a permanent organization, to be known as the "Union League of White Men," for the protection of white labor, and then adjourned to meet on next Wednesday evening. At the last account all was quiet on the Yuba.

AN INTERESTING BIT OF DOMESTIC HISTORY OF AARON BURR'S FAMILY.

On the heights of the west bank of the Harlem river stands a fine old mansion, dating back long before the days of the revolution; a house in which Washington, Lafayette, and their contemporaries wrote their dispatches, during that dark period when the British landed and occupied the city; a house from which one may now overlook the steeples of this busy town, the pleasant hills of Westchester, and the distant waters of the Sound.

In this picturesque spot lived, since 1803 or 1804, Mme. Jumel, whose eventful life ended night a year ago at a very advanced age; whose eventful story, could it be written, might be more interesting than any romance. An obscure but beautiful Yankee girl, she had come to be the wife of the rich Jumel, a Frenchman driven away from St. Domingo during its horrors. Full of ambition and talent, she did and dared many things which made the timid and prudent stare, which set the tongues of the envious and curious a wagging, and made her as famous and as brilliant as any woman of her time. One of the episodes of her late career was her marriage with Aaron Burr, which was soon terminated by a separation, but which identified her with one of the most remarkable men of the country. From her marriage to a French gentleman and a rich one, she came to know Louis Philippe, Talleyrand and the rest of those remarkable men who had refuge in this country from time to time, and when afterwards she visited France with her husband she had access to the Court circle, which then few Americans ever entered, and where she made her mark. For a time she was a star among the beauties of the Court, and if to be talked about, to be envied, is to be happy, then Mme. Jumel was as happy as mortal women well could be. But for the past fifteen years she has been growing very old, and has spent her time in the retiracy of her own home, with few inmates, and with little intercourse with the world—her companions and friends being her niece and adopted daughter and her children. These she had taken to France to be educated. There one of them was married by the agency and consent of the madame. The landed estate she had received from Jumel she had held on to with a tenacious grasp, until in the progress of time it has become a property of immense value—some estimate it at a million of dollars.

But now it has been fought over, and out of it is to come the "great Jumel will case," in which will be arrayed some of the most distinguished lawyers of the New York bar.

It appears that in her old age, when past ninety, Mme. Jumel made a new will, cutting off her relatives and adopted child and her children, giving her entire property to various public charities, with the single exception of her pastor, who was to have an equal share with the other devisees. These relatives and heirs who have lived with her some forty years, naturally do not respect this paper, and claim that she had become incompetent to make a legal will. They are inclined to charge undue influences, and they pray that this paper shall be set aside as null and void, so that they may enter in and enjoy the good things which they think they had a good and reasonable right to expect.

On the other hand the devisees take quite the opposite view—they think no woman was in a better frame of mind than Mme. Jumel, and that the very judicious bequests made to them entitle her sanity to the greatest respect. They claim, too, that Mme. Jumel's relatives are no relatives at all, and have no right to any of her property, and that it is altogether wrong and improper to set up the claims they do. Here the issue is joined, and on Monday morning the respective forces were marshalled in presence of the Judge of the First Division of the Supreme Court—Mr. O'Connor and Judge Pierpont for the relatives, Mr. Austus Smith and Mr. Stoughton for the will. The presence of a room filled with the legal profession, testified to the interest the case was exciting; but a short contest on the part of the devisees of the will to have the case postponed, on the part of their opponents to have it go to immediate trial, resulted in its postponement to the May term, when it is to be called to preference over all other cases. We shall then look for curious and interesting developments.—N. Y. Times, April 17.

STEAMER SEIZED.—The steamer Vaquero running as a freight boat between this city and San Francisco, was seized a few days since, for carrying passengers without a license. The seizure was made during the temporary absence of the owner (Dr. Merritt) from this State, evidently with the design of interfering with the regular business of the boat; but a bond was promptly given and the boat released, so that the regular trips were not interrupted. On the return of Dr. M., he called upon the Collector, and made a statement of facts relating to the business of the boat, upon which the suit was dismissed. We understand the owner now intends to take out a license for carrying passengers, and tendering a free pass to all passengers. Hereafter the boat will make three trips each day, Sundays excepted, leaving the Broadway wharf at 5:30 A. M., 10:30 A. M. and 2:30 P. M. Returning, leaves the Commercial street wharf, San Francisco, at 8½ A. M., 12 M. and 4 P. M.—Sac. Bee.

Two clerks in a pawn-shop in New York were robbed the other night of a quantity of wearing apparel, by burglars who entered their lodgings, and the next day a man entered the very shop in which they were employed to offer their own property in pawn. At once recognizing the articles, they had the man arrested on the spot. He was much piqued and mortified when he discovered what a trap he had fallen into, and crustily declared that he "should think as anybody what calls theirselves gentlemen would let a cove know who they was afore-hand, and not go to spoiling the trade in that way."

THE Norfolk Post says that the oyster law passed by the Virginia Legislature is doing more to injure the trade of Norfolk than all other causes combined. Since it has gone into operation at least fifty vessels have left that port to load with Maryland oysters. The steamers refuse to carry oysters from Norfolk, as the tonnage duty is too enormous for them to pay.

EXAMPLE FOR BOYS.—The boys of the grammar schools of New Bedford have organized themselves into a society for the suppression of profanity and vulgarity in their schools; they have drawn up a regular constitution and by-laws, and mean to make the organization thus begun a powerful and efficient instrument of good. There is ample room for such organizations in this State.

IT is stated, on good authority, that a Philadelphian, who a few years ago had a revenue of twenty thousand dollars per annum, and cut a large splurge among the bon ton of the city, is now an attendant in an eating saloon in New York, on a salary of a few dollars per week.

ACCORDING to M. Chevalier, the use of opium in England is increasing enormously.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 26, 1866.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

CHURCH MATTERS.—On Sunday evening last Rev. J. A. Johnson delivered his farewell sermon to the members of Plymouth Church. The sermon is variously spoken of, but as we did not hear it, we shall make no comments. We are not apprised as to the future of Mr. Johnson, whether he intends remaining with us or leaving. We learn that the committee appointed to take measures to sustain worship in the Union Church, passed a resolution on Tuesday evening to notify the different Evangelical Societies at Sacramento and San Francisco that the Church was ready for the occupancy of all who might desire to officiate without regard to sect.

SPIRITUALISM.—The Rev. N. R. Peck will preach on Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal Church. Subject—Spiritualism.

GONE HOME.—We seldom have to record the departure of one who has by his example and influence exerted so great a benefit with the community in which he lived as Mr. A. K. Benton, who takes his departure for the East next week. He commenced mining in the neighborhood of Gold Run, six years ago, with a capital of one hundred and ten dollars; ran a tunnel two hundred feet alone, the dirt of which he wheeled out himself; during the first two years of his mining operations the water facilities failed, and he had to lay over; occupying himself at the carpenter's trade, in order to pay expenses, during the time. This, considering the extreme age of the subject of this article, sixty-three years, was evincing more perseverance and energy than is commonly displayed by younger men. During this period he found time to write several able articles on scientific subjects, and frequently treated the readers of the ENQUIRER with choice poetic articles, among the best of which was a beautiful little poem entitled: "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," which, we believe, first appeared in the Sacramento Union, years ago. Mr. Benton leaves now with a fair competency, and we hope he may long live to enjoy the fruits of his labor and industry.

ALTA.—There is considerable preparation going on at and about this place, which is situated about two miles above town, and is the locality for a depot of the Central Pacific Railroad. Many persons have inquired of us the object of the Company in building a depot at Alta, when there is one to be on the site of the old Steam Saw Mill, a quarter of a mile below Dutch Flat. We are not in the confidence of the Company and therefore cannot state upon authority what reasons autuate them in putting up two depots in such close proximity with each other, but presume that the contractor is obliged to complete a given number of miles of road before he can draw pay therefor, and that Alta completes the section, and therefore he is obliged to have a depot there that the cars may run to it, and by doing this he is enabled to draw his pay and not wait four or five months. Taking this view of the matter, some of our good citizens are wrong in supposing that the Company intended to throw any obstacle in the way of the prosperity of our town.

BE CAREFUL.—We understand that it is the practice of persons to visit Chinatown during the night, going into their stores, houses, etc., singly or two together. This is a dangerous practice, and we advise those in the habit of doing so to quit it. There is an impression that the Chinese are a submissive, inoffensive people; this is probably the case where they are found in small bodies, but it is entirely different where there are large communities of them, as is the case in this place. Persons can be made way with by them, and friends or justice would remain utterly at fault as regards those who put them out of the way. The safe plan would be then, to keep away from their dens, especially at night, and if one's curiousity leads to the examination of these people's houses, take the daylight for the gratification of it.

CONCERT.—The concert for the benefit of Miss Nancy V. Amos, came off at per announcement at the Methodist Church on Saturday evening last. It was fairly attended and the exercises were creditable and entertaining. The fair beneficiary acquitted herself well, and the whole performance was received by an appreciative audience in an enthusiastic manner. The net proceeds of the concert we are informed, soar respectfully beyond the limits of one hundred dollars; a pleasant admission of the claims and talents of the youthful and accomplished beneficiary by the public at large, which must prove a source of fond reflection to her friends and a double gratification to the recipient herself.

WE draw the particular attention of our citizens to the advertisement of Reliance Hose Company, in to-day's issue. We have already noticed the fact that the company has not been supported as they deserve to be, or as the wants of the town demand. We have had experience enough of late to know that without a hose carriage the whole town might get on fire before water could be got on it. We therefore hope that our people will lose no time in fulfilling their pledge to the Firemen and provide them with a vehicle by which they can reach a fire before it is too late to master it.

GOING FROM OUR GAZE.—We hear it stated that the Pioneer Company intend shortly to move their coaches, horses, etc., from this place to some point above. We are sorry to see them go. Their agents, drivers, and in fact all their employés are men of accommodating, agreeable turns, and when we get good citizens we are unwilling to lose them. The iron horse, however, generally works a revolution wherever it snorts, and this is one of the many changes it is about to effect.

NOTICE the advertisement of Messrs. Mason & White, of Gold Run. It will be seen that these gentlemen advertise all the necessaries of life, together with the luxuries, and promise to sell at reasonable rates.

QUARTZ MINER'S CONVENTION.—We publish to-day a call for a Quartz Miner's Convention to be held at Auburn, on Saturday, June 30th. It is unnecessary for us, we conceive, to enter into a long dissertation as to the necessity of this action on the part of those interested in this important branch of industry and development, as all should be aware of its importance. Political parties hold their conventions for the management of their particular interests, and in that manner avoid, generally, a conflict of interests, and we see no good reason why the miners—who are the bone of the country—should not have a proper understanding among themselves since the laws give them the right—apportion the quantity of ground that each man shall hold by location; how much for discovery; the amount of work it shall be necessary to perform in order to keep a title good, and enact certain other rules and regulations necessary to the welfare, harmony and peaceable possession of miners. They should also elect a Recorder, or make a provision to have the claims recorded by the County Recorder, as is the rule in Nevada county, that all may know where to apply in order to obtain information in relation to the mines wherever located in the county. The custom now prevalent in our county, does not meet the object at all, and can never be made to do so. Persons in localities where discoveries are made are elected Recorders, and miners are charged for his services, when in six months time the Recorder moves away, destroys or takes with him the books, and all record of the claims is lost sight of; no such event could possibly occur should the County Recorder be made the Recorder of mining claims. Persons would know at all times where to find the records, and each man's or company's rights would be secured. Miners generally manifest very little solicitude in matters in which they are frequently most interested—the making of laws for themselves being an important fact. We think well of the call, and we hope those interested will take prompt action in this matter, as we are pursuaded it will rebound to the benefit of all.

BURGLARY AT GOLD RUN.—Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock some of the thieves, cutthroats and robbers who seem to congregate there for the purpose of appropriating other people's property by the most available means, whether forcibly or otherwise, entered a jeweler's shop on Virginia street, without taking the trouble to knock at the door. After having effected an entrance, the ruffians proceeded to ransack everything in the shop indiscriminately, but the proprietor having removed the most valuable portion of his stock into his bed-room, they took only about fifty dollars worth of chains, rings, etc., and then turned their attention to a trunk in which the jeweler was in the habit of keeping his loose change. Just at this juncture, he was awoke by the noise, and was cautiously making his way down stairs armed with a six-shooter and intent upon blood, but the rascals were too quick for him and decamped, leaving the door open, taking the unopened trunk with them, however. The discomfited jeweler pursued furiously for a short time, revolver in hand, but from the darkness of the night was obliged to give up the chase in despair. It is a source of grim satisfaction to him that the robbers found no money in the trunk, which was found during the same day in a ditch close to the house. The strangest part of the story is, that eighty-six dollars which were in a cigar box on the floor were not discovered by the burglars, although they could hardly have failed to notice and even move the box. The jeweler says he has now a port-hole cut in the floor of his room, so that any one venturing inside at unseasonable hours may expect a mild dose a la Steve Venard. It seems to us that these are the same men who attempted to break into Mason & White's store lately.

FOURTH OF JULY.—The time for the anniversary of our Nation's Independence, is rapidly approaching, and we would respectfully suggest to our citizens the propriety of taking such steps for a celebration on the coming Fourth of July as they may see fit. We presume no one, of whatsoever political faith will throw anything in the way of a display of patriotic feeling on that day. It has been several years now since our people thought they could, with justice, indulge in a good Fourth of July celebration; they thought it incumbent upon them to give all their spare change in aid of the sick and wounded soldiers, strengthening the arms of the Government in crushing the rebellion and other patriotic calls upon their purses. We are happy to state that all these causes have ceased to exist; the rebellion is crushed, civil law has resumed sway, the farmer with his plough and reaping-hook has taken the place of grim war, the terrible sword, and the flashing canon; and meet and proper, we, as a people, assemble on the anniversary of the day that gave to the world a nation of freemen, and render thanks to the God of battles for his protecting mercies in shielding our liberties from anarchy and making us as a nation, the objects of His especial care. This too, will be in conjunction with the contemplated action of the ladies of our place who design giving a dinner and supper to the multitude on that day.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The matter of providing for one's support in declining years and for dependent ones in case of death by a Life Insurance policy is fast gaining favor, and needs only to be better understood to be more generally appreciated. Mr. Eaton, the General Agent for the North America Life Insurance Co., was here from San Francisco last week and induced some of our best citizens to insure' Mr. F. Burckhalter for $10,000, Mr. Halsey for $3,000, Mr. J. T. Mathewson for $5,000, Mr. B. F. Moore is also insured for $10,000. Mr. J. T. Mathewson has been appointed agent for Placer county for this company, and we advise all our readers to give him a call and get posted.

REWARDED.—Steve Venard, who shot and killed the three robbers who rifled Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box, an account of which was published in the last issue of the ENQUIRER was presented with $1,500 by the officers who composed the Sheriff's party. The officers officers offered Venard the whole amount of the reward, $3,000, but he refused to accept. Fifteen hundred dollars, however, is a very comfortable amount to have about the house.

MURDER.—On Thursday morning last our usually quiet community was thrown into considerable excitement by the finding of the dead body of a man in the rear of the residence of Mr. B. H. Bartlett. The man, whose name was ascertained to be William Strother, was evidently packed to the place where he was found after being murdered. Justice Aubury had the body removed to Armory Hall where he held an inquest upon the body. The body had three stabs in the breast, each passing through the breast-bone, one of which penetrated the length of at least six inches, while there was one other in the right side lower down—three of the four of the wounds were pronounced fatal. Suspicion of the diabolical deed rests upon the Chinese, as he was found in the vicinity of Chinatown, and it is supposed that the man had wandered off to that portion of the town in a state of intoxication, become engaged in a difficulty and was murdered, and carried to the spot where he was found. As yet, however, there has been no clue found that leads to any conclusion as to the murderers. The following is what was elicited on the examination:

Orrin Day sworn—says: I was building fence this morning, saw some Chinamen going and coming and asked them what was the matter. They told me an American was dead in the bushes; they showed me where he was; when I found him it was between eleven and twelve o'clock. I sent immediately for the Justice of the Peace. I came away and got Alex. Hemphill, and we two stayed until the arrival of the Justice. The body was not moved from the time I saw it until the Justice came; I think I saw him yesterday in China street; but if he is the man, he did not have on the coat he now has. I found him in the ravine back of Herrick Bartlett's, about four feet from the water and about eighty feet back of Kruger's lot.

James Taeff sworn—says: I searched around China Town after the discovery of the body for evidence; I searched a house, in a room I found a table cloth which looked like it had been used as a sheet, with blood on it; there was a China woman there who the constable arrested and brought to the Justice's office; Mrs. Seffens claims the table cloth as hers; there was blood in front of the house, between the gutter and sidewalk; there was considerable blood at that place.

J. T. Davis, being duly sworn, deposes and says: I saw the man whose body now lies before the Jury, about a week past from last Sunday; we stayed that night together at Mr. Bunker's; he told me then and there that his name was Strother; he told me he was from Saline county, Missouri; I next saw him yesterday evening at the new station near Camp 15, between five and six o'clock, P. M.; he wanted to know if he could stay all night in that town; after he found out that there were no accommodations there, he remarked he would come down further; he looked like he had been drinking some; I saw him start towards Dutch Flat; that was the last I saw of him alive.

John Smith, being duly sworn, deposes and says: I am Special Watchman in Dutch Flat; I did not see deceased in China Town last night dressed as he is now; if he was there he must have been in another dress; I watched all night until half-past four this morning; there was no disturbance during the night.

H. S. Stone, being duly sworn, deposes and says; I know the body before the jury; the name of the man was William Strother; as much as two years ago he came to my place; he then went to work for Guisendorffer or Starbuck; I have known him ever since; I last saw him alive yesterday morning, in Blue Canyon, Placer county, at Guisendorffer's store; he was at work for Guisendorffer; he settled with Guisendorffer; Guisendorffer paid him about $20; he then left for Dutch Flat.

David Meyer—sworn: I was present at the examination of the body by E. Aubury, acting as Coroner, and know the articles taken from the body, as follows: one bottle of pomatum; one small account book, with three or four papers therein; one pipe; one piece of lead pencil; some tobacco; one comb; some tax receipts for the year 1865; one white-handled pocket knife, with the large blade opened; I also saw the said E. Aubury examine where the body laid, and saw him pick up two five-dollar pieces, gold coin.

Dr. Wm. C. Jones, being duly sworn, says: I have examined the body before the jury; I find four knife wounds on his body, each of which would almost be necessarily fatal: one between the fourth and fifth ribs, penetrating the heart; one in the lower third of the sternum, cutting through the cavity of the chest; one wound on the right side below the twelfth rib, penetrating the cavity deeply; one wound above the right hip, wounding the intestines; several wounds on his hands, made with a knife. I should suppose that he came to his death at other than his own hands; the wounds look like they might have been inflicted by two different knives; he does not look like he had been dead more than twelve hours; the wounds in the side are running towards the belly; I should not think he was in a standing position at the time he received the wounds in his side; I should judge he was in a bent posture; from the nature of the wounds he must have bled profusely; the coat he has on is not saturated so profusely with blood as I would anticipate from the nature of the wounds; there are knife wounds through the coat corresponding with the two lower wounds: there would not necessarily have been but little external hemorrhage from three wounds; from the fourth, or the one through the heart, there would have been considerable; from all appearances, he must have been carried to where he lay when found after death. The two large wounds look like they had been made with the same knife; there is one double cut through the coat, for which there is no corresponding wound on the body; I could not identify the wounds from the coat, as the coat shifted; he might have been killed more than twenty-four hours, at farthest, but I think not more than twelve or eighteen hours.

After hearing the evidence, the jury rendered the following verdict:

The undersigned, members of a coroner's jury this day summoned to hold an inquest on the body of a man found dead in the rear of the premises of Herrick Bartlett, Esq., in the forenoon of this day, do find from the evidence adduced on said inquest that the name of deceased was William Strother, that he was from Saline county, Missouri, and that he came to his death from wounds inflicted with a knife or knives in the hands of a person or persons unknown to this jury.

A GOOD CLEAN-UP.—The Dutch Flat Company, in this place, cleaned up, on Saturday last, the handsome sum of $3,150, the result of fourteen days' labor. This is one of the oldest, as well as one of the best paying claims in this vicinity. Few hydraulic claims out of this mining district will pay over two hundred dollars per day. We congratulate the fortunate owners upon the prolific yield of their claim.

DELUDED WRETCH.—The Dayton (Nevada) Sentinel states that over one hundred Chinamen have left that vicinity for Montana within a few days.—Sac. Union.

Which is the "deluded wretch," the editor of the Sentinel or the "one hundred Chinamen?"

THE WEATHER.—For the past three days it has rained and rained and rained, and from appearences this morning (Saturday) it will continue to RAIN. Meadow Lakers, be patient.

LETTER FROM IOWA HILL.

IOWA HILL, May 23, 1866.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—Since my last communication business of every kind has been rather dull, and in fact, is more so at present; with the exception of Sundays, everything is as solemn and monotonous as the amen of a repenting deacon. In the meantime, however, considerable excitement has been occasioned in our moral community by various scandalous and sad rumors, and which now seem to be the all absorbing topic of conversation among all. I do not intend to particularize—indeed I despise to notice anything which might pain the heart of any one—a great deal more than that of an already aggrieved wife and mother, and I don't doubt but what you will hesitate to publish anything reflecting upon every principle which makes a family tie sacred. I should not have said one word about this harrowing and shameful affair if the parties concerned therein had acted prudent by leaving it in statu quo, but as they have deemed it proper to reveal it to the public, I will merely allude to the shameful details that have reached the ears of both old and young for the last fortnight.

We were treated to a wedding on last Thursday, or to exclaim in the language of Ingomar: "Two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at the house of Mr. Calvin, and passed off with considerable eclat. The happy couple were not allowed to retire until three o'clock in the morning.

As my time is limited I will just mention that several claims in this vicinity are paying well, while the Morning Star, Jameson and Sailor Union yield big.

I have reliable information that a contract has been let for erecting a twenty stamp mill on Wisconsin Hill; work on the same will be commenced immediately, and it is calculated to have it running in ninety days. Another mill is talked of to be erected at the same place, as parties from below have made negotiations for the cement.

I feel halt way inclined to close this by giving your pleasing newsmonger, "Quid Nunc," a caustic dose in the ribs, or even pitch into ye editor, compositor, local, devil, or any one else. How do you like that new beverage—"Adam's ale?" Why ye will soon be a pale face.—[We are getting fat on it.—ED.] IKE.

COUNTY BOUNDARY.—Below we give the proceedings of the action of the Board of Supervisors of this county in relation to the boundary line between this and Nevada county:

The Boards of Supervisors of Placer and Nevada counties met at Bear Valley, in the vicinity of the head or source of Bear river, on Tuesday, May 15th, 1866, as per agreement heretofore made, for the purpose of establishing the starting point of the dividing line between Placer and Nevada counties at the head or source of Bear river, and after a careful examination of all the branches and streams emptying into said Bear river above Bear Valley, the Board of Supervisors of Placer county unanimously agreed that a certain small lake on the divide between said Bear river and the Yuba river, and which said lake empties into both said Bear and Yuba rivers, was and should be taken as the head or source of Bear river; and the Board of Supervisors of Nevada claimed and contended that the true source or head of said Bear river should be and was at a point where living water made its appearance and continued to flow into said Bear river at the driest season of the year, said points being, as near as could be ascertained, about 250 yards apart. The Boards of Supervisors of the above named counties, having failed to agree, returned to their respective offices, to take such other action in regard to the matter as might to them seem best.

On motion, A. B. Scott was appointed as a committee to act on behalf of Placer county and of this Board, for the purpose of conferring with the Surveyor-General in regard to establishing the dividing line between Placer and Nevada counties, from the head or source of Bear river to the State line, and to procure, if possible, the services of said Surveyor-General, or his deputy, to survey and establish said dividing line; said A. B. Scott being hereby authorized and empowered to make all and every arrangement necessary and requisite for the successful carrying out and accomplishment of the above order [and direction?].

SNOW fell to the depth of two inches at Meadow Lake on Wednesday last. Business is opening there briskly, and everything is bustle. A Stock Board has been formed of some twenty members, and the stock list numbers over two hundred claims.

LACK OF MINING ITEMS.—It has all along been our desire to place before our readers a reliable and comprehensive report of the progress of the mines of this place and the surrounding neighborhood, not for the purpose of exposing the exact amount produced by the different claims to gratify curiosity, but with a view to make the large resources of the district more generally known. Notwithstanding any modest though continued efforts to arrive at these desirable facts, we find ourselves weekly in the dark as to the amount which each company cleans up; and for the reason why this extreme reticence and absolute silence should exist about matters which we cannot see any cause to conceal, we must say we are completely at a loss. It is by no means our wish to pry into any man's financial standing with his grocer, his butcher, or his water company, all of whom contribute in supplying him with the multitudinous indispensables connected with mining, but we want our mining friends—and we are glad to say they are many—to assist us in giving a weekly report of what is being produced in this essentially mineral district. The showing will be largely in our favor when compared with other places which have had much greater publicity than ours; and there is no subject to which we shall at all times more gladly devote the use of our columns than that which shall have for its aim the advancement of our local mines and the mining interests generally, The caption of this article will, from the foregoing, be easily understood. From all we can learn, there has been as much gold produced here and at Gold Run this week as in any other during the season; but we would hint to our friends, in the most polite manner possible, that they would be doing nothing more than subserving their own interests by being a little more candid, and so prevent us from indulging in the too frequent use of generalities, which are always unsatisfactory to the reader.

PRESENTATION.—Most of our citizens will doubtless recollect the very able manner in which little Miss Julia Paccard sustained her part in the Union School Exhibition, on the 17th of February last, and they will remember the showers of applause and coin given her by by the audience on that occasion. The parents, however, were not satisfied to take the money for their little darling's proficiency, when the friends of the family procured a beautiful gold locket and chain, and on Wednesday evening last, without ceremony, presented them to the little favorite. The present, intrinsically, is nothing, but who can measure the depths of the welled-up feelings of a fond parent's heart when convinced of the solicitude and regard to a child by kind and loving friends! We risk nothing in saying that their gratitude is such as to beggar thanks, and their pride for their pet commendable and just. The locket is engraved on the front: "Presented to E. J. M. J. L. Paccaud, in her seventh year. Dutch Flat, Cal., Feb. 16th and 17th, 1866." On the adverse are the words: "A token of appreciation from the audience, for her declamation at the Union Sabbath School Exhibition." Making at once a beautiful present, and will doubtless be a source of pride and gratification to her in after years.

SOME people can never be satisfied. We state this as a truism, and can bring forward many proofs in substantiation of the position; but if any one occurrence could possibly convince the incredulous it is the fact that John Spaulding, who makes the Dutch Flat Hotel his stopping place when in town, where he has all the substantials, as well as the delicacies, dished out to him in the most bountiful profusion, (those Virginia passengers to the contrary, notwithstanding;) had occasion to make a trip up the road the other day, when, losing sight of the reputation of his landlord, and the possibility of ill-natured remarks by envious and rival establishments, he had got but six miles from town before he actually purchased two loaves of bread, and our informant says, readily consumed them both. Now we see no impropriety in a man buying bread, and, if he wants to, eating it, but we maintain that he has no right to do anything which will tend to lessen the reputation of a first-class house by eating so soon after leaving it. However, he may be afflicted with a tape-worn, who knows? If you are John, we take back all we have said, and shall embrace the first opportunity, after learning the fact, of doing the amende honorable,

STRUCK IT RICH.—Messrs. Buckman & Curran, of Little York, says the Nevada Transcript of the 23d, struck the rich cement lead in their claims on Saturday last immensely rich. The lead is of great width, and the prospect, as far as they have opened on it, is excellent. We saw a specimen yesterday, that was taken out on Saturday last, and it is about one-tenth gold. A gentleman who visited this mine, informs us that it is the richest cement that has been struck on the lead. The owners of this very rich claim commenced operations about four months ago, and previous to the last strike the cement has yielded them, upon an average, $1,500 per week, and the top dirt, which is from sixty to eighty feet deep, has averaged $1,000 in addition. They have an eight stamp mill.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Sarah Donahey, an old lady in Washington county, Iowa, is very anxious to know where Ease McEvoy is, whether living or dead, or married out here. He married her daughter in 1856, and afterwards wents to California, leaving his wife and little daughter. The wife is now dead, and the little daughter is living with her grandmother. Any information which can be afforded in regard to the above person will be most gratefully received by their relatives and friends.

WOULD'T ALLOW IT.—On Sunday last the Superintendent of the Union Sunday School stated, if it was the wish of any one connected with the school, he would resign his position, but no hands were raised, and the officers of the School indicated by that their desire for him to retain his office. Mr. Davis deserves great credit for the manner in which he has superintended the affairs of the school, and we very seriously doubt whether another could be found who would devote the time and attention that he has done during the last six or seven years.

A SUCCESSION OF TRIUMPHS.—At each and every Fair held in 1860, Grover & Baker were awarded the highest premiums for their sewing machines and machine work. In 1861 the same awards were made them; likewise in 1862; and thus far at every State, and numerous District Fairs held in 1863, they have received the highest premiums when exhibited in competition with other machines. Among others, in 1863, we are apprised of first premiums at the Oregon, New York, Vermont, Iowa, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan State Fairs. Certainly no better evidence of the superior merits of the "Grover & Baker" need be adduced than the fact that their "new style" noiseless machine has invariably taken the palm, and borne off the highest honors in every instance, when exhibited, since its introduction in 1860.—S. F. Mercury.

LUBRICATING OIL.—Burckhalter has just received from below a large can of Paraffine oil, said to be the best lubricating oil ever used. We have tried this oil on our presses and can recommend it as meeting all the qualities claimed for it. Machinists, mill-men and others who use machinery should try it.

NEW STAGE LINE.—It will be seen by noticing advertisement that Messrs. Wilson & Abrams are putting on a stage line to run from this place to Heaton's, connecting there with the saddle trains for Meadow Lake. They make their first trip to-morrow, starting at 7 o'clock A. M.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS!
A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC,
CORRECTIVE AND ALTERATIVE,
— of —
Wonderful Efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, whether arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system, or produced by special causes.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME. genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element: no fierce excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of balsamic herbs and plants, with the mildest and purest of all diffusive stimulants.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be appreciated. In case of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to reinforce and re-establish them.

The weak Stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA, and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apparient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habits, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Langour, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and somachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers every where, and by

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. Young, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. Dec-3m

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. E. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. Its daily use will the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Dec9-3m

DR. J. F. GIBBON.—This celebrated physician has returned to San Francisco, after an absence of a year, during which time he has visited the prominent hospitals in the United States, England and France; and having carefully studied the different mode of treatment in all those establishments, he comes back with full knowledge as to a proper adaptation of them in the effecting of cures here. He has returned and resumed the practice of his profession at No. 517 Kearney street, where his old patients may find him, and those who are suffering from ills which his practice will allow him to cure. His card will be found in another column.

BE. NASBY IN THE ANGUISH OF HIS SOUL UTTERETH A WAIL.

CONFEDERATE X ROADS, (which is the stait of Kentucky, April 9, 1866.

I am a kittle of cusses.

Under me is burnin a fire uv rage wich is bein continyoually fed with the oil uv disappointment.

And I bile over.

The Civil Rites Bill wich our Moses put his foot onto, we thought wuz dead.

And we fired great guns, and hung out our flags, wich we laid aside in 1860, and made a joyful noise.

For we said one unto another, lo! he is a true Moses, inasmuch ez he is a leadin us out uv the wilderness.

The Civil Rites Bill wuz the serpent wat bit us, and he histed it, that we might look and live.

Now let us be joyful.

For the Ethiopean is delivered into our hands, bound hand and foot.

Blessed be Moses.

We will make him tread out our wheat—but we will muzzle his mouth.

Blessed be Moses!

He shel pick our cotton, but the hire he receiveth he shel stick in his eye without injuring the sight thereof.

Blessed be Moses!

He shel toil in the sugar mill, but the sugar shel he not sell.

Blessed be Moses!

His sweat shel nourish our corn, but he shel eat nary ear thereof.

Blessed be Moses!

We will burn his skool houses and destroy his spellin books—for shel the nigger be our superior?—and who shel stay our hand?

Blessed be Moses!

The skool teacher will we tar and feather and whar is the bloo koted hirelins to make us afeerd?

Blessed be Moses!

We looked at the nigger and said, ha! ha! the last state uv the chattle is wus nor the fust, for before we hed his labor while he wuz strong and helthy but hed to take eare on him when he wuz sick and old, and now we kin git his labor without care.

Blessed be Moses!

The Ablishnists east out one devil, and garnished the room, but there wuz seven devils more stronger and hungrier which rushed in and pre-empted the premises.

Blessed be Moses!

But our song uv joy wuz turned into a wale uv anguish.

Moses sought to hist the serpent, but the serpent histed him.

He's on a pole and the bitin north wind is a blowin onto him.

He can't get up any higher because the pole ain't any longer, and he can't get down because he ain't no place to lite onto.

He vetoed the bills and Congress has vetoed him—the Civil Rites Bill they passed in a uncivil manner.

Now, bein the nigger hez rights, he is our ekal.

Our ekal is the nigger now, and onless the skool-houses is burned and the spellin books destroyed he will soon be our superior.

We wuz willin to give him the right uv bein sued, but alas he kin sue.

He kin be a witness agin us, and he kin set his face agin ourn.

Our wise men may make laws to keep him in his normal speer, but uv wat avail is they?

We kin buy and sell him no more, neither he nor his children.

The men will cleave unto their wives and the wives unto their husbands, and our hand is powerlis to separate em.

Their children kin we no more put up at auction and sell to the highest bidder, we pocketin joyfully the price thereof.

They hev become sassy and impudent, and say, "Go to, are we not men?"

I bade one git orf the sidewalk, and he bade me be damned.

I chucked a nearly white one under the chin and smiled onto her, and she squawked, and her husband hearin the squawk thereof, came up and bustid my head, even ez a white man wood hev dun.

I chastised wun who gave me lip, and he sood me, a Caucashun, for assault and battery and got a judgment.

Wale! for Moses put out his hand to save us these indignities, but his hand wus too weak.

We killed Linkin in vain.

Our Moses is Jaxon. He fancieth he resembleth him becoz his initials is the same.

He resembleth Jaxon muchly—in that Jaxon hed a policy wich he cood carry out, and Mozes hez a policy wich he can't carry out.

And ez he can't carry out his policy, the people are carryin it out for him.

Wich they do a holdin it out at arms length and a holdin their noses.

Moses is a cake half baked—he is hot on one side and cold on tother.

He darsn't let go uv Ablishnism, and is afeerd to cum to us.

He hez bin takin epsom salts and ipecac, and wun is workin up and the other is workin down.

Where kin we look for cumfort?

Do we turn to the people? Connecticut answers, "Vote for Hawley," and Noo Hampshier goes Ablishun.

Do we turn to the courts? Lo, Taney hez gone to his reward, him who afcretime dealt out Dimmykratic justice, and who understood the nacher uv the nigger, and Chase, who is pizen, reigns in his stead.

Raymond is grown weak in the knees, and Doolittle is a broken reed on wich to lean.

We are too short at both ends.

Shel we go to Brazil? Lo! there they put niggers in orfis.

Mexico holds out her hands to us, but lo! there the nigger is considered a man.

We hev no escape from the Etheopian—he is around us and about us and on top uv us.

I see no Post Orfis in the distance—no hope in the future.

Hed I bin a ...st so ez to make the thing safe in ti... ...orld, I shood be glad to die and quit this.

For my soul is pregnant with grief—my hart bulgis out with wo.

A COUPLE of old topers in some way got into a quarrel, and for some time hurled all the approved blackguardism of the pot-house at each other, when one of them, determined to extinguish the other, exclaimed, "Go; I have no more to say! I scorn you as I do a glass of water."

A GIRL, not fourteen years of age, died recently in Smithfield, N. Y., from an overdose of arsenic, which she had been taking in large quantities for a series of weeks in order to improve her complexion.

WE have heard with no little trepidation of a project to establish a school of design for women. For Heaven's sake, are there not designing women enough already?

IMPORTANT

MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was promulgated by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance laughed at the new system, circulating base stories of its ill success, and quoting imaginary cases as proofs. Time has demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathetic system is the leading idea in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contented to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathists; finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the machine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. H. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic Instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be of advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several "electric" Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any nameable disease, which he will send with full instructions for use, to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease with which the applicant may be afflicted, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to directions and more especially in all cases of female troubles, where great care and caution are necessary to a favorable result. Disease (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no Institute in the State where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the inward from falling into those dens of robbery (cylept quack doctors' traps,) and hereafter the scientific originators of this Institute will not be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. There is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be reared with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent them from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable, suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the catalogue of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number.

Persons wishing to consult the Resident Physician by Letter, can do so with the utmost confidence. All letters must be addressed plainly, J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Box 1945, San Francisco, Cal. All letters will be destroyed or returned, as directed by the writer.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINES.

Copy of the report of the Committee of Awards at the Fair of the

AMERICAN INSTITUTE

NEW YORK, 1865.

To the FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE CO. for the Best Family Sewing Machine,

HIGHEST HREMIUM! GOLD MEDAL!

REASONS:

1st.—Its simplicity and great range of work.

2d.—The Reversible Feed Motion.

3d.—The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the Machine is made

4th.—The rapidity of its working and the quality of the work done.

5th.—The self-adjusting Tension.

The Florence was awarded the first and highest premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair on the Pacific coast at which any two doubld thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in competition in 1865.

The Florence received the only premium awarded, by the Mechanic's Institute of San Francisco, in 1864 and 1865, to any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co., or Agent. The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Wherever the Florence has been brought in competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every Machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High St. Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Luke's, Old street; St. Mary's, Camb Place. Pad.; Lock, Harrow road; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitehapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DR. GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment, which cannot be surpassed.

DR. GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1, 1865.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, amaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious druge. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended Doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strick inquiry, or may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Syphilis is Syphilis the world over; so is small pox, consumption and other diseases, to the contrary of what quacks may say.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of sel-abuse.—This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunt intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treating this complaint, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give $100 to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to DR. GIBBON, stating case, symptome, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for ten dollars, sent in a registered leter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and prerenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to follow their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper-carriers, intelligence office, keepers, etc.—Look over the San Francisco City Directory and you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862. The only way to avoid imposition is make inquiry, which will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, advertising physicians in eight cases of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting till you know what theyare. DR. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. DR. GIBBON will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Prevention against diseases and pregnancy. Sent by mail—Price, $2.

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

Private Medical and Surgical Institute,

Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and Scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all Sexual Diseases.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Disability, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public prtronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praise of a Physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited during a practice of more than fifteen years.

DR. DOHERTY—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restored, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some some written acknowledgement for your valuable services—particularly as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, (some of whom have a large number of titles,) I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is better than it has been for years.

In conclusion, I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address and call and see me. (I keep more in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœa, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Doctor, very truly yours, L—— H——.

Seminal Weakness—A Sworn-to Certificate of a most Remarkable Cure of Spermatorrhœa.

A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience. In that year however, I had Seminal Weakness in an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptons as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory, and I soon were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars, but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr. Doherty's advertisement, I thought I would call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determind to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last I placed myself under his care; in one week I found myself very much improved, and, now, after five weeks' treatment, I find myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself

JAMES JOHNSTON.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 15th day of January, A. D. 1864.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of si ht, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast a uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the efforts of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whose long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT.

Cures are always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts Gonnorhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostrate; Seminal Weakness: Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs in either sex, cure always warranted, NO PAY REQUIRED, at the SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHŒA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. It will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling away in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, the holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such as one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician who has long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with pare tics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely gra s with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires a radical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been in Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make it, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and refriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without the Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.
